

How to Say This

How to say this:

I am broken nerves and sandy laugh,

I am gravel underfoot and hot,

I am accidentally fatal and very far from the sky

I am lightning glass and fragile

I am silk spoken and softening

I am unintentionally sober and looking past the lens

I am undreamed of hoping

I am witness for the defence

I hope to confuse the audience

I hope there are stars tonight

I have tamed the feral hours and drowned the evidence.
